MISSIONARY WOMEN IN SESSION IN STATESBORO

The Southeastern Divisional Institute of the Baptist Women's Missionary Union of Georgia is in session in Statesboro, having convened Wednesday. The program will continue through till this afternoon.

It is understood that there are more than two hundred women in attendance, which is considerably in excess of the number expected. Dinner was served at the church each day by ladies of the church.

Among the visitors are many women of prominence in state-wide religious work, including Mrs. E. L. Tanner, of Douglas, president of the organization; Mrs. T. Z. Daniel, of Millen; Mrs. Mary E. Stacer, Millen; Mrs. W. G. King, Waycross; Mrs. H. D. Williams, Baxley; Mrs. R. W. Eubanks, Dublin; Mrs. Ben Thompson, Madison; Mrs. A. F. McMahon, Atlanta; state secretary and treasurer of the U. W. M. U., Miss Julia Allen, state young people's leader, and others.

The sessions have been open to the public and a number of visitors have attended.

A FULL PROGRAM FOR GEORGIA STATE FAIR

GOVERNOR HARDMAN HAS ACCEPTED INVITATION TO ATTEND ON WEDNESDAY.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 12.—Details of the Georgia State Fair's program for the week, October 24-29, have been outlined. Days designated and events agreed upon are as follows:

Monday—Circus Day. John Robinson's circus, afternoon and evening performance. General admission ticket does not get bearer into the circus.

Tuesday—Children's Day. President Jones has requested Supt. O. B. Strong to release children from classes at 1 o'clock.

Wednesday—Governor's Day. Georgia Day, Savannah Day. Governor Hardman has accepted invitation to attend.

Thursday—South Carolina Day. Civic Clubs and Fraternity Day. Evening—Chatham County Day.

Saturday—Traveling Salesman's and Farmer's Day.

Plans are being laid for a big occasion. A. W. Morehouse, past president, was named chairman of the committee to invite, and assist Rev. W. A. Johnson, chairman of the religious committee, in conducting the religious performance. General admission ticket does not get bearer into the circus.

There are only two classes of game that may be hunted lawfully at the present time. These are foxes and opossums. You should not forget that a license is necessary to hunt both foxes and opossums. It is a ruling of this department that every person taking part in an opossum or fox hunt is not required to have a license. Only leaders of the party or the persons furnishing the dogs should be required to have a license. In other words, you should see that some responsible party in every fox or opossum hunt is properly equipped with a license. This will be sufficient. Wardens are usually too indifferent regarding fox and opossum hunting. These animals are protected by law and a license is required to hunt them. You should be as diligent in enforcing the law regarding opossum and foxes as you are in enforcing other provisions of the game laws.

"Again you are reminded to require every hunter to exhibit his hunting license. Don't let the exceptions unless you know personally that the hunter has bought his license."

EIGHT-FOOT SUGAR CANE
IS PRESENTED TO EDITOR

An eight-foot stalk of green sugar cane was presented to the editor Tuesday by Moses Dorio, and was grown in his garden on East Main street. Mr. Dorio is planning to include some of the fancy stalks in the Bulloch county exhibit which will go to the Georgia State Fair in Savannah.

STATE GAME WARDEN ISSUES A STATEMENT

REMINDS GAME WARDENS THAT LAWS FOR GAME PROTECTION MUST BE ENFORCED.

Hon. P. S. Twitty, state game commissioner, has issued a statement to the county wardens throughout the state which will be of interest to all the people. J. M. Murphy, county game warden of Bulloch, has requested that we shall give space in our columns to this statement, which is as follows:

"State-wide complaints to this office indicate that there is much unlawful hunting. The chief violation seems to be the hunting of squirrels out of season. The squirrel season does not open until November 20th. It is a violation of the law to hunt squirrels before that time, and it is your duty to keep on the alert, do your best to catch these unlawful hunters, and make a case against every violator.

"However, this department realizes that there is a general misunderstanding throughout the state with reference to the squirrel law. A bill was introduced in the last general assembly to open the squirrel season as early as September 15th. This proposed change in the law had the commissioner's endorsement, because it is fully convinced that November 20th is rather late to open the squirrel season. However, the bill proposing this change in the season was never reached for passage and the squirrel law remains as heretofore, opening on November 20th. It is not for you and me to enforce the law, it is for us to enforce it as it is written, and it is just a much your duty to prosecute a man for shooting squirrels out of season as it is to prosecute one who shoots quail out of season.

"However, the commissioner realizes that there is a general confusion throughout the state regarding the squirrel law. Sportsmen honestly believe that the law was changed by opening the season earlier. We want to be absolutely fair with the hunters of the state and for that reason I think it is our duty to give general publicity to the effect that the law has not been changed and that it is, in fact, unlawful to shoot squirrels before November 20th. I hope you will take this bulletin to the editor of your local paper and ask him to run a short story notifying the public that it is unlawful to shoot squirrels before November 20th. After this announcement is duly promulgated in your county, you will then proceed without fear or favor to prosecute every person who shoots squirrels out of season.

"There are only two classes of game that may be

ETERNAL TRIANGLE DRAMA
THURSDAY AND FRIDAY, October 13-14
"VARIETY"

With Emil Jennings and Lya de Putti; written and directed by W. A. DuPont. "V" stands for "Variety"! You will find plenty of it at all times in this super attraction. The story is one that will never allow you to forget that an intensely gripping "different" drama is being unfolded. It is a tale of continental vaudeville folks. A country carnival, and the huge Berlin Winter Garden, providing a background for this story of the show business. The story, a simple version of the "eternal triangle" theme, yet the more powerful because of its simplicity—tells of an acrobat's infatuation for a girl, only to have her stolen from him by his partner. "A PLOW BOY'S REVENGE" is a sweet comedy and so is Lya de Putti.

SOCIETY FARCE COMEDY
SATURDAY AND MONDAY, October 15-17
"GETTING GERTIE'S GARTER"

With Marie Provost and Charles Ray; adapted from the stage play by Wilson Collison; an E. Mason Hopper production. Here is the story of a pretty girl, a jeweled garter, a broken engagement and a jealous fiancé. It's a thing of beauty and a laugh forever. Gertie got a garter with her fiancé's picture on it. When she broke the engagement and he tried to get the garter back, a lot of embarrassing, exciting and mirth-provoking things happened which keeps them in hot water and makes things look suspicious to her new fiancé. The garter, she had a perfect right to wear it—and also a perfect left. You'll have a perfect right to laugh—and you will—when you see "Getting Gertie's Garter." "THE MARRIAGE CIRCUS," another comedy that will make you walk the dog.

Look For The Red "O. K." Tag

After we have thoroughly reconditioned a used car, we attach a red "O. K." tag to the radiator cap. This tag certifies that the vital units of the car have been gone over completely by expert mechanics and put in condition to give thousands of miles of additional service. It takes all the "guess-work" out of used car buying. Look for this tag when you buy a used car—for it is your guarantee of quality and value!

COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

All of the junior high schools are required to keep a well defined and accurately detailed permanent record of all the high school work done. This term we expect to accredit Es-la, Denmark, Nevins, Warnock, Lee-field, Ogeechee and Middle Ground, and possibly others of our schools that are able to meet the state's requirements for accrediting. Write Supt. M. L. Dugan and get the list of requirements and see if your school is able to qualify for accrediting this school year. Do this at once. Trustees should call the teachers' attention to this and see that permanent registers are secured at once and that they will be kept. Teachers of the junior high schools who fail to do this will get in bad with their students when they call for their records later on after this school is ended. Be sure to be very accurate with your monthly reports and send them to the county office at the end of each scholastic month. This, too, is an important part of the school's record.

Citizens of the county who may have business with me will be able to find me at this office on Saturdays. Early and late in the week days. Most of the time now I will be obliged to be on the road until about the last of April. Better make an engagement if you have business with me except on Saturdays. On Mondays before the first Tuesday you will be able to find me in the office, and on a few other days; but the most of the time you will be disappointed unless you notify me of your coming. My time will be spent on the field except as above explained.

The schools of the county were well represented at the fair on last Friday, which was school day. Excellent educational displays were to be seen and the students should have gotten many valuable ideas from what was to have been seen and studied at the fair this time. The several school exhibits were of unusual merit. There was not very much difference in the merit of any of them. All were very creditable and the schools making displays certainly should feel proud of their accomplishments.

Our teachers are giving serious thought and are devoting much time to the proper arrangement of their daily schedules. We are determined to have schedules that, when carried out, will insure promotions the most efficient. Children who fail to make a grade in an eight months term have not done their best if they have been sent regularly. And teachers who have them in charge should feel that they have not done what they should for such children. Let us work the children to their advantage during this school year. We must have them do the work well they are supposed to do each school year. Soon these children will reach that age when it will be too late and unless they get this essential training before they are too old and while they have the opportunity, all is lost. Put the children to work and help them to do their tasks well. That is what every father and mother has the right to expect and that is as little as any teacher should expect of the children in her charge.

Let every district take care of the children in the home school. Do not encourage patrons to send to another district. Take pride in your home school and support it. If you have not got a school as good as you want, help to make it so. If you are divided, get together and stand by the teachers and trustees in a spirit of co-operation and your school will be the best school and will be the one you will wish to have your children attend.

Long Troubled by Constipation

"Black-Draught has been a family medicine with us for fifteen years," says Mr. F. M. Huntley, of Neosho, Mo. "I read about it first in the Ladies' Birth-day Almanac and what I read there sounded so convincing I made up my mind to try Black-Draught, as I had been troubled with constipation for a long time."

"I found Black-Draught to be the ideal medicine for this trouble. It gave me quick relief. Frequently I had had headaches and pains, due to toxic poison. By taking a course of Black-Draught I gave my system a thorough cleansing, and I have had little or no trouble since then."

"Now, if I am becoming constipated, I take several small doses of Black-Draught, and am very soon feeling fine."

Costs only 1 cent a dose. Black-Draught

THE TOWN OF NAHUNTA

Almost due south from Statesboro a distance of about 100 miles "as the crow flies" is the charming town of Nahunta, the county seat of the new county of Brantley.

"As the crow flies" is not a mere figure of speech, but fits the situation like a glove the hand, for in making the trip through the country one is struck with the number of crows seen flying by the roadside. If you make the trip from Statesboro with Guy Wells in his hand, some swift Buick, the going is a matter of brief moment and great endurance. Turning to the left-hand road about three miles beyond Lane's bridge, you will follow the highway to Jessup. If you stop at the filling station just as you cross the railroad track there and ask the man how to proceed, he will tell you "Go straight ahead till you pass the school house and you will observe a sign pointing to the right which reads '99 miles to Jacksonville.' Take that road." Those are brief instructions and are easy to follow; but it will be a mistake to follow the road to its termination, if, indeed, it has one. Some fifteen miles beyond Jessup the road forks and another sign indicates "To Jacksonville." There is where the first grave mistake is apt to occur. If you go straight ahead, you will soon reach the town of Hortense; but if you turn to the left, as we did, you'll be wondering pretty soon where you are going, for the road becomes duller and duller, with more and more sand till you realize you are lost. Just as you have made up your mind to this, you will come upon a humble country home. Two yearling-size country boys are in the front yard busy with a dipper of scalding water and a dismantled bedstead. It is Saturday and they are getting ready to have a good nap through Sunday, perhaps.

If you feel hopeful of getting road directions, abandon hope. Asked about the route, the gist of what you will get is this: "Yes, this is one way to Nahunta. There are several ways. If you want to go by way of Hortense, it is the best way you have come. If you want to go by Lulaton, you are on the right road. We don't know which is the nearest way. Yes, you turn off if you go by Lulaton. We don't know how many miles, but it's not very many." And the boys will continue their warfare of extermination.

You may take your choice whether to go ahead or go back, so far as they have helped you to decide, or so far as they know. And thus comes the significance of the origin of the musical name of "Nahunta." The gist of the information you have obtained from these boys is if you want to find a place, "Now-hunt-er." Having started, you feel impelled to go ahead rather than turn back. "Gosh! I'd hate to live here," Wells exclaims as he presses on the gas feed and his high-gear speedometer registers 60 miles. "Gosh!" we respond, "but I'd hate worse to die here. Go slower." And he drops down to a speed of 59 miles for a moment.

You find yourself approaching a sand-covered hill. The road sprangles out till there are a half dozen. Either one will carry you through more sand than you realized existed. If your car is not a good one, and if it should begin to "doodle" into the sand and kept it up till you reached the bottom of the sand, you'd probably go 8,333 1/3 miles and let your self out in China on the opposite side of the earth. If your car carries you forward instead of downward, you'll get over the hill and find a newly constructed highway the right-hand end of which will carry you in the direction you have been looking for to Nahunta.

The occasion was a teachers' meeting, which had just gotten under way, forty-odd county teachers being present.

"Jazz may come and jazz may go, but the katydid still seems to stick to the old song," says J. L. Renfro. "What this country needs," declares E. C. Oliver, "is a good, reliable four-months guaranteed straw hat." Allen Lanier says about the only time some men are satisfied with their lot is when they are buried in them. "There may be a scarcity of other things but an apple crop never gets too big for the worms to attend to it," says Alfred Dorman. "Distance may lend enchantment, but not to the fellow whose car breaks down when he is four miles from a garage," says Dr. Crouch. Jake Miller says he considers any man fairly well-to-do if he has an extra pair of shoes to wear while he's getting his old ones half-soled. Albert Deal wants to know what has become of the old-fashioned boy who was the teacher's pet and used to go out and cut switches for her! Judge Proctor says he has noticed that many men who used to go a fast clip in the days gone by are mighty cheery now in the matter of morals. "Why it is," asks Judge Temple, "that when a small boy gets a haircut he has to wait a month for the hair to grow again before he looks human?" "If there is anything left over after the rest of the family and friends have been attended to," says Paul Franklin, "then father may get a present this coming Christmas."

Sonny Donaldson argues that there isn't much wrong with the fellow who thinks that the cute things his baby says are of more interest than what the diplomats say at a meeting of the League of Nations. ing session in the modern new school house. Of this group it transpired that half a dozen or more had been students at the recent session of the Georgia Normal summer school, and that more than twice that number are planning to come back next summer. Prof. Wells was on the program for a speech, and he made a good one—the best if the shortest he has ever made. We'd say that Nahunta is an ambitious new town, traversed centrally by the Atlantic Coast Line run—"Nahunta." There are handsome business buildings on the four corners of the square—a garage, a filling station, a hotel and some stores. Further back from the railroad in one direction is the newspaper office and in the other direction is a handsome new jail. They have no court house, but use the school building for court purposes. Let it not be understood, however, that in Nahunta they send them direct from the school room to jail, for theirs is a progressive, prosperous community, in which they are proud of the educational system and of their future prospects in every way. As one enters the town there is in mind a feeling of sadness as there comes the memory of that awful calamity last year in which the lives of twenty-odd happy, rollicking school children riding to their school, were killed when their truck came into contact with a freight train at the crossing in the heart of the city. It was an incident that tore the heart of all Georgia; but Nahunta did not linger long in sackcloth and ashes. She is going ahead by steady degrees, and if you ask the people there to show you a better town than theirs, they'll tell you "Nay, hunt 'er."

How About Price

Of course, price is important—particularly these days when a man has so many calls on his income! But before we take up the question of price we secure the finest quality in fabrics because that insures satisfactory wear.

We demand honest tailoring—for that means that a suit will hold its shape and retain its appearance.

We insist on fitting qualities—for a suit that doesn't fit isn't cheap at any price!

And finally having secured those necessary qualities, we offer you the suits at the lowest possible prices.

You'll find the answer in GRIFFON Clothes.

Wonderful new selections for fall!

Press agent's statements are often stretched, but the press agents in advance of John Robinson's circus declare that this pioneer show boasts of more skilled horsewomen than any other "white top," and during the past few years the equestrian and menage displays offered by this famous circus have been commented upon highly by the press and public.

AN OPEN LETTER FROM CITY DAIRY COMPANY

Dear Sir: Will you please allow us space in your paper to explain to the people of your city the facts about the City Dairy situation now existing in Statesboro?

It has recently been rumored around town that if Mr. George T. Beasley had carried his contract out with us we would have raised the price of milk in Statesboro. Such a statement is absolutely untrue; we have never thought of raising the price of milk. The truth is, this statement was circulated for the purpose of trying to justify Mr. Beasley in deliberately breaking his contract with us.

Here are the facts with reference to the whole situation: During July and August we were considering establishing a milk plant in some town as near Dublin as possible on account of our plant there and the home office there. We considered Statesboro a good town, for several reasons, for a milk plant. We took the matter up with the dairymen who were furnishing milk in the town. Mr. Akins also Mr. Geo. T. Beasley. On August 29th we made a trade with them for their milk to us for a term of five years. Based on this contract we leased a building for five years from Mr. W. E. McDougald of your city, on West Main street. We also purchased the necessary machinery for the milk plant so that we would be in a position to pasteurize and handle all the milk that was being delivered to customers of Mr. Akins and Mr. Beasley. This made it possible for us to put in a pasteurizing plant in your city, giving us volume enough to start a plant with to justify the expenditure necessary to open up a plant here. We carried our part of this contract out in establishing the plant here ready to receive the milk on the day set out in our contract, which was October 1st. On that date Mr. Akins delivered his milk to us as per his contract, but Mr. Beasley failed to deliver his milk as per his contract and has not yet delivered one single gallon to us on his contract. Instead of fulfilling his contract with us, he has made a trade selling his cows to his wife, Mrs. Geo. T. Beasley, for the sole purpose of evading his contract with us. Mrs. Beasley is now delivering the milk from the Beasley dairy to the customers of Mr. Beasley in his stead. This is a very serious disappointment to us, as we never would have entertained a thought of coming to Statesboro with a pasteurizing plant had it not been for the contract made with the dairymen here to sell us their milk and cooperate with us in making it a success. We have gone so far that there is nothing left for us to do but run the plant as best we can under such disappointing circumstances. We, therefore, ask your sincere consideration of this matter. We are anxious to succeed, since we have gone to a big expense to give your people the best in everything in the dairy line, including pure pasteurized milk, which we term a blessing to any town where established. If you good people of Statesboro will cooperate with us and give us your milk business that we expected when we agreed to come here, we can and will succeed in the dairy business here and prove a blessing, not only to your city, but also to your entire county, as we will be in a position to handle all sour cream produced by your farmers.

Yours truly,
CITY DAIRY COMPANY,
By M. C. Dominy, Mgr.

P. S.—For your consideration we are herewith publishing exact copy of contract signed by Mr. Beasley to us, and recorded in the office of clerk of superior court in book 85, page 810.

WARNOCK SCHOOL NEWS

Our school is growing every week. We now have 225 pupils enrolled. We want to urge all the pupils out of school to enter as early as possible. Come on, boys and girls; we are alive and doing things in fine spirit at Warnock.

Our display took third prize at the county fair. We feel proud of the booth, but we appreciate the nice compliments paid our display by the many people who saw it more than the prize received.

Mr. Mathews is giving our school the intelligence test. He has finished the reading and arithmetic. By this test we hope to improve and raise the standard of our school.

We are calling a P. T. A. meeting for Friday afternoon for the purpose of formulating and outlining a program for the entire year. We have many things under consideration. Come, help us to put over the work that will make Warnock a better place for your child to get efficient training.

Boys and girls are practicing basketball with a determination to win. We hope to schedule several games with other junior schools.

PARTIES FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Honoring Miss Mamie Hall, a lovely bride-elect, and Mrs. Leslie Nichols of Tampa, Fla., a charming visitor, was the bride party Friday morning at which Mrs. Frank Simmons was hostess. Lovely and sumptuous were the rooms in which her four tables were arranged for the game. She served a salad course and gave her honor guests lovely shoulder corsages. Mrs. Hinton Booth was given a wall vase for high score and Mrs. W. H. Blitch a powder container for low.

Miss Hall was honor guest at a pretty party on Friday afternoon given by Mrs. E. L. Smith at her pretty home on South Main street. An abundance of coral vine and roses were tastefully used in her decorations. She invited twelve tables of players and served heavenly hash with sandwiches and tea.

Miss Lila Blitch and Mrs. Fred Shearouse were joint hostesses on Saturday afternoon at a lovely party given by Mrs. E. L. Smith at her home on South Main street. Four tables of players were invited. Mrs. W. H. Blitch made high score and was given a pretty candy jar. Mrs. W. E. McDougall made low score and received an address book. A dainty jam jar was their gift to the honor guest. After the game they served a salad course.

A trouseau tea featured the afternoon's program for Miss Hall on Monday. The guests were entertained at the pretty home of Mrs. Inman Foy on Savannah avenue, who, with Mrs. E. G. Cromartie and Miss Nell Jones, were hostesses for the occasion. Green and pink were the colors predominating in their decorations. Mrs. W. H. Blitch met the guests at the door, after which they were conducted to the den in which the receiving line was formed, by Mrs. Barney Averitt. In the line were Mrs. Foy, Miss Hall, Mrs. Cromartie, Mrs. S. Edwin Groover, Mrs. W. E. McDougall and Miss Annie Smith. Mrs. Hinton Booth ushered the guests to the living room where Miss Lila Griffin kept the bride's book. Miss Hall wore an imported evening gown, a combination of yellow and lavender tulle trimmed in lavender ribbon and rhinestones.

Mrs. S. Edwin Groover entertained her bridge club and a few of her friends on Tuesday morning in honor of Miss Hall and Mrs. Nicholas. Her pretty home was adorned with coral vine, cosmos and roses. She served a hot plate luncheon and lovely cakes. High score prize, a dreamy boudoir pillow of blue tulle, was awarded Mrs. Annie E. Grimes. The guests cut for consolation, Mrs. W. H. Blitch cutting low, she was given a French doll. The guests were presented with pieces of costume jewelry. Seven tables of players were invited.

Mrs. M. W. Akins entertained at tea on Tuesday afternoon for Miss Hall. Miss Nell Jones met the door and Mrs. J. G. Moore introduced the guests to the receiving line. Receiving with Mrs. Akins and Miss Hall were her grandmother, Mrs. Lavinia Akins, and a number of her great-aunts. Mrs. W. E. McDougall escorted the guests to the dining room. From there they were conducted to the punch bowl over which Miss Almarita Booth presided, by Mrs. Hinton Booth and Mrs. W. H. Blitch. Little Miss Emily Akins played the victrola throughout the afternoon and Mrs. E. G. Cromartie ushered the guests to the chairs as they departed. Mrs. Akins used as her color scheme a motif of pink and white, this being carried out in the pretty course, as were also the decorations. A handsome cover of lace and linen was used on the tea table. Her entire service was of silver. Mrs. Inman Foy and Mrs. Barney Averitt presided over the table and serving were Mrs. Edwin Groover, Mrs. Frank Simmons, Miss Helen Collins and Miss Lila Griffin. The popular blue tulle and hand-made point lace.

INTERESTING SESSION
MISSIONARY WORKERS

SOUTHEAST DIVISIONAL INSTITUTE OF THE B. W. M. U. MEETING IN STATESBORO.

The Southeast Divisional Institute of the B. W. M. U. of Georgia was held at the First Baptist church at Statesboro on October 12-13, 1927.

The meeting was called to order at 10 o'clock by Mrs. E. L. Tanner, vice-president. The opening song was "Jesus Calls Us," after which Mrs. C. W. Pruitt, a returned missionary from China, conducted the devotion of the morning.

The devoted life and her forty years of service for the Master made her words doubly impressive. The visitors from the various parts of the division, the state officers and the speakers were welcomed in a most gracious manner by Mrs. E. A. Smith, president of the Statesboro Union and superintendent of the Ogeechee River Association and Mrs. E. T. Whitley of Savannah responded in a happy expression of appreciation. Then came reports from the various divisional officers as follows:

Treasurer—Mrs. T. Z. Daniel, Millen.

Personal Service—Mrs. E. L. Tanner, Douglas.

White Cross—Mrs. Mary E. Stacer, Millen.

Margaret Fund—Divisional Mother, Mrs. W. G. King, Waynesboro.

Mission Study—Mrs. H. D. Williams, Baxley.

Stewardship—Mrs. R. W. Eubanks, Dublin.

An interesting feature of the reports was that in regard to Jeremiah Clark, of Dublin, who, with Mrs. Harvey Clark, missionaries in Japan, whom the union is educating at Georgia Tech. A picture of the young man was placed upon the platform table, and his letters of thanks to the union were read.

Mrs. Ben Thompson of Madison, gave an interesting appeal in behalf of the Ruby Anniversary, or the fortieth year since the founding of the W. M. U. movement. She explained that the present eighteen-month campaign which is being sponsored by the union is for a threefold purpose: (1) The re-awakening of the various missionary societies and allied organizations; (2) the organizing of new societies and allied organizations; and (3) an increase in the amount of gifts for missions. The goal for new organizations is $20 for the state, making a forty per cent. increase over the present number. A four-million-dollar goal is set for contributions. Within the next few weeks, each organization will receive its appropriation. Special emphasis was laid on the importance of the training of young people.

After Mrs. Thompson had finished her appeal, Mrs. Tanner urged that every woman present make a personal matter and that an effort be made to improve those who did not attend the meeting, with a sense of personal responsibility. Then followed the singing of the Ruby Anniversary enactment song, after which Mrs. Thompson led an interesting open discussion on the Ruby Anniversary, during which time she urged that the women in giving to missions, be careful to designate that their gifts go through the W. M. U. Mrs. Tanner announced that there would be a Ruby Anniversary chairman for each division in the state, namely: Mrs. R. W. Eubanks, of Dublin, for the Southeast Division. After the appointment of the resolutions committee and the time and place committee by Mrs. Tanner, the Rev. L. B. Barksdale, the blind singer from Savannah, sang a solo that carried a message of unusual appeal.

The meeting adjourned for lunch following the dismissal by the Rev. H. S. McCall, of Ogeechee.

Wednesday Afternoon

The session recommenced with the singing of "O Zion, Hasten," after which Mrs. A. F. McMahon, state secretary and treasurer, led the devotion. Mrs. McMahon strongly brought forth the truth that the "fields are already white to the harvest," and that the gleaners should no longer. She also made an appeal for the re-erection of the

SHARPERS SWIPE PURSE FROM VENDER OF JUICE

Mike Brown, colored cane juice vender, was the victim of a couple of light-fingered gentry who got away with thirty-four dollars in cash Saturday morning. Mike was selling cane juice from his wagon on the streets near the Central depot when two colored men came up to refresh themselves. They gave him a bill of large denomination to change, which he did with little trouble. Other persons being passing him, he neglected to replace his purse in his pocket, but laid it down by his juice container while he continued to wait upon customers. In a few moments he discovered that his purse was missing and, looking up, he saw the two negroes hot-footing it for the Central depot. Without delay he went to a telephone to call an officer. In the meantime the Dover-bound train came through. At the depot Brown made inquiry and found that one of the negroes had bought a ticket out of town. He asked the men told him they were from Augusta. So far he has no prospect for the return of his money.

Senator W. J. Harris and Congressman Chas. G. Edwards were visitors in Statesboro Monday afternoon for a short while. They were enroute from Savannah to Cobb County, where they were expected to attend a wedding anniversary of friends. Senator Harris has been in the vicinity for several days as the guest of Congressman Edwards, having spent Monday at Springfield, where the senator delivered an address.
